MEDIATOR SAYS RAIL WALKOUT SEEMS LIKELY

Sessions Continue at Chicago Today in Effort To Prevent Brotherhood Strike.

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, May 4 — A nation-wide railroad strike, set to start a week from today, appears likely, say a federal mediator who has been striving to head off the walkout of three operating Brotherhoods.

"It looks very much like there might be a strike," said Frank Douglass chairman of the national (railway) mediation board yesterday. 'The picture does not look good."

His comment followed four days of apparently unsuccessful meetings with the unions and carriers. However he said the board planned further sessions today in a final attempt to settle the wage dispute.

'Tuesday (today) might very well be our last day in Chicago," Douglass told newsmen. If the picture doesn't change we may well decide there is nothing more to do here."

Douglass said the "White House has been kept informed of the progress of negotiations." There was no immediate word from Washington if some government action might be expected. Douglass did not disclose who was being kept advised at the White House on the talks here.

No Action Indicated

There appears no further step for the government to take to head off the strike by the carriers' key workers — some 190,000 engineers, firemen and switchmen—which would cripple the country's rail service. The mediation board's last-minute attempt to avert the threatened tie-up is the final step provided by the present law. The dispute has been threshed out in all procedure provided by the railway labor act.

The carriers Douglass said, are standing pat on the recommendation made by a presidential fact-finding board for a wage hike of 15½ cents an hour and changes in some working rules. The unions, he said, are insisting that the railroads negotiate on rules changes not recommended by the board.

WASHINGTON, May 4—White House Press Secretary Charles G Ross said today that federal efforts to avoid a railroad strike could not yet be "labelled conclusively as a failure."

Ross said the White House is watching federal mediation efforts in Chicago. He said he did not think there would be any railroad development from the White House today.

Pennsy Workers Prepare Demands

By The United Press

PITTSBURGH, May 4 — The CIO United Railroad Workers will ask the Pennsylvania railroad for a 20 per cent wage increase and a 40-hour week for 60,000 non-operative employes, an official said today.

National Representative Robert Walkinshaw disclosed the demands as the negotiating and policy committee of the URW-CIO opened a two-day conference here.

Walkinshaw said the conference was called to discuss the position of the union in case of a strike by the three operating brotherhoods, and final plans for contract negotiations with the railroad.

UAW IN FORD WAGE DEMANDS

Concessions' Request Rounds Out Drive Against Big 3 of Industry.

By The Associated Press

DETROIT, May 4—Demands for a 30-cent hourly pay boost and other concessions for 120,000 Ford Motor Co. workers today rounded out the CIO United Auto Workers' wage drive against the automotive industry's big three.

Armed with a list of 11 objectives, the Ford negotiating committee expected to start negotiations around July 15. The wage clause in the Ford contract will be reopened on that date.

A hospital plan, pension setup and guaranteed weekly wage were among goals approved by the UAW's national Ford council here yesterday. It was estimated the whole "wage package" demand might add up to as much as 50 cents an hour.

With possibilities of a May 12 strike hanging fire, the UAW was scheduled to meet Chrysler Corp. representatives again today. No progress was reported by either party on the union's demand for a 30-cent increase.

The union, through acting president, Emil Mazey, said today "our strike plan at Chrysler has not been altered" despite a legal ruling that a state-conducted employe vote is required before a strike would be legal.

MT GILEAD, May 4—A 15-year-old farm girl is in Galion City hospital today suffering from cuts of the right hand and left wrist while Morrow County Sheriff Tom England leads a search for her sister and brother-in-law who are charged with the cutting.

Warrants charging Campbell and his wife with assault with intent to kill were filed in the court of Mayor Roy Bennington of Mt. Gilead this morning by Morrow County Prosecutor Leon McCarty.

The girl's conditions is reported as good this morning by attending physicians.

Sheriff England said today he had not learned full details of the incident.

Voters Turn Out Early Today To Visit Polls.

Early trend of voting today in the Marion county primary would tend to indicate an average to slightly higher turn out at the polls with voting in one city precincts running considerably ahead in the early hours.

A spot survey of various precincts in the six city wards indicated at least three precincts were running ahead of the last primary vote by the noon hour.

Republican voting as in past years ran heavier, as much as three to one in several precincts, than the Democratic vote in a majority of the precincts checked.

Run Nearly Even

In the Third ward, strongly Democratic, three precincts checked, showed the two parties voting very nearly even. Shortly before noon the spread was 22-17 in Precinct A, 27-32 in Precinct C and 11-13 in Precinct D, Republicans leading.

A heavy early vote kept election workers busy in Precinct 1 of the First Ward where more than two-thirds of the total vote in the last primary had been reached shortly after 11 a m.

Majority of precincts checked however reported voting running about average for the city primary. Early voting appeared to run heavier in the Fifth and Sixth wards, strongly Republican.

Expect Good Vote

Fair weather for the election gave some observers cause for predicting a heavier than average vote despite the lack of split-ted contests for office on either ticket.

Possible factor to offset the local lack of contests was seen in a proportionately larger turnout of labor union members expected to cast their ballots today. Registration of union workers this year was estimated to be 40 per cent above previous registration.

Big Cities Set Pace; Democrats Less Numerous.

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., May 4—Ohio Republicans came out early and in force today to settle the battle between favorite son Robert A. Taft of Cincinnati and Minnesota's Harold E. Stassen for 53 of Ohio's 53 delegates to the party's national convention.

Reports from all big cities showed Republican ballots were being handed out in today's primary election in numbers far over the Democrats. The latter were deciding chiefly whether former Gov. Frank J Lausche or Ray T. Miller of Cleveland was their nominee for governor.

Both Lausche and Miller expressed confidence in election-eve statements.

Cleveland and Akron reported heavy voting, with the Republican balloting especially heavy. At Akron Ray Finley, a Stassen campaign manager and former Democrat, was challenged but finally was given a Republican ballot. Numerous challenges but few refusals were reported in Cleveland.

Outside of Cleveland, Akron and Columbus, voting was slow. Youngstown, also in the northeastern Ohio section where Stassen is centering his fight for delegates, reported a total of 55,000 votes expected, or about half the eligible vote.

The Taft stronghold of Cincinnati and Hamilton county reported exceptionally slow voting for the first three hours, with almost three Republicans to one Democrat going through the lines Dayton and Montgomery county, where Stassen and Taft slugged each other in speeches last week, had "surprisingly light" turnouts.

Total Vote Not High

Toledo, in the northwest corner, also reported Republicans far outnumbering the Democrats in the early part of the day. Observers there forecast only a 30 per cent vote.

At Columbus, a record 90,000 vote was expected.

Weather throughout the state was cool, cloudy, and dry.

Stassen had hand-picked 11 districts—mostly in the industrial sections of northern Ohio—for his assault on the home defenses of the senator. Democrats have dubbed "Mr Republican" because of his GOP congressional leadership.

Upwards of 750,000 Republicans expected to file into polling places in the 12-hour period ending at 6 30 p m, eastern standard time, had a chance to vote for at least one Stassen delegate candidate.

He is Carrington T. Marshall, former state supreme court justice, running in a field of 10 at-large candidates.

Since all of his opponents favored the Ohio senator was sure of at least eight delegates there. His men were unopposed in 11 other district races in which 22 delegates are chosen.

With this 30 as a neat egg, Taft's camp maintained that Stassen would be squeezed out with a handful of delegates in voting expected to be multiplied by the promise of fair skies.

Any such result was calculated to revive Taft's dampened hopes that he can win the GOP nomination at Philadelphia. Politicians said Stassen's failure to get 10 or more would black-mark his shining record of primary vote victories in Wisconsin, Nebraska and Pennsylvania.

Stassen remained confident he will capture at least 12 of the 23 places he is contesting. Ohioans generally conceded any such result might put Taft on the sidelines as a presidential contender, but leave him in command of a considerable number of delegates from other states.

Closing Campaign Talks

Stassen bid strongly in a Cleveland radio speech last night for backing in the districts where the farm vote will be top-heavy in naming eight of his delegates.

He urged that the cost of farm-hired labor be included in the formula by which the government fixes a price floor under certain crops. This could only result, economists said, in raising this floor.

Taft previously has said that the level of federal price supports ought to be lowered.

The Ohio senator, voting in his home town of Cincinnati today, lashed out at communism as "the greatest threat to freedom of the world" in a final round of speeches there last night.

In response to a question, he said he would even favor lining up with Argentina and Spain in the fight on the Communists. He said fascism is now no world threat.

Child Born To Detroit Mother On Train with Aid of Porter

The Chesapeake & Ohio passenger train due here around 3 a. m was turned into a temporary maternity ward and the porter and an unidentified man took over the duties of an obstetrician when a 19-year-old Detroit colored woman gave birth to a daughter just as the train pulled into the union depot today.

Mother and daughter were removed to the City hospital in the Merle H Hughes ambulance where both are reported to be "doing fine."

The woman, Mrs Gladys Henley wife of Fred Henley of 8851 Greeley street, Detroit, was returning home from Logan, W. Va where she had gone for a visit with her parents before the expected birth of her child in what she thought would be another month.

"She become ill before the train pulled into Columbus, but could not think it was labor, she told hospital attendants.

"It was embarrassing, but I am certainly grateful to the unidentified man and the porter who came to my rescue," she added.

Mr. Henley has been notified of the addition to the family. The child, dubbed "Chessie" by hospital attendants, will have a name beginning with the letters C. and O. Mrs Henley states. She weighs five pounds and 11 ounces. The Henley's have another daughter aged one year.

The train, one of the railroad's crack passenger trains, due here at 2.52, arrived at 3 09 and after the short delay departed at 3:55 a. m.

U.S. TRIO IN BERLIN MAY FACE CHARGES

By The United Press

BERLIN, May 4—Three American soldiers who spent 36 hours in Soviet custody on a diet of black bread, soup and tea faced a possible court martial today.

American military police returned them to the American zone from a Russian military prison in a Berlin suburb late yesterday.

The trio was arrested early Sunday morning by two Russian officers when one of them allegedly threatened a German night club owner and later fired a pistol in the air to prove it was loaded.

The soldiers, all privates, are Keneth Wilkerson, 21. of Richmond, Ind.; George Baumann, 20, of Philadelphia, Pa., and Joseph Lenz, 21, of Lancaster, O.

They said they were treated "very decently" by the Russians, except for their sparse diets.

Police said either Lenz or Wilkerson went off guard duty with an Army carbine. They said Bauman carried a small-caliber German pistol.

Entering a small cafe in the Russian zone, one of the soldiers allegedly flashed his pistol repeatedly. Then, after firing a shot, police said the soldiers went across the street to the room of a girl they had picked up.

$10 Taken from One; Another Tosses Robber from Cab; Suspect Held.

Isaac Lawrence, 31, of 183 Senate street was arrested this morning at 6 18 a m. at the corner of Senate and Hocking streets and charged by police with the armed robbery of $10 from Clyde Smith, a Yellow Cab driver, early today.

Smith told police he picked up a colored passenger at union depot at 12 12 a m who asked to be taken to an east side address. Smith said when the cab reached Tyler street his fare held a knife against his throat, ordered him to hand over his money. He took $10 from Smith and forced him to stop the cab on Tyler street where the passenger got out and disappeared.

At 4 15 a m. Russell Dellaford, a Safety Cab driver picked up a passenger, also colored, who ordered him to drive to Bryant street. The Colombian cabinet decided on the break late yesterday. A short time later a note announcing the action was delivered to the Soviet legation. Its contents were not disclosed.

The government radio broadcast in English an announcement of the rupture last night. Informants believed the government will inform Colombian citizens of its decision today.

REAL ESTATE RACE BAN HIT

Supreme Court Rules Buyer Can't Be Put Out if Sale Is Made.

Special to The Star

WASHINGTON, May 4 — By ruling that real estate agreements which bar Negroes and other minority groups from "white neighborhoods" cannot be enforced in court, the U. S. supreme court Monday held that if a Negro or any other minority group succeeds in buying property covered by such an agreement, the sale is valid and the power of the law cannot be used to put him out.

Property owners remain free to make such restrictive covenants among themselves, but the agreements henceforth have no standing in court, and need not be observed.

Chief Justice Fred M. Vinson handed down the unanimous decision in behalf of six justices. Three did not participate in the case.

Directs Look at Rails

In another action the court directed the interstate commerce commission to take another look at claims of dissenting stockholders in the merger of the Chesapeake & Ohio railway and the Pere Marquette railway.

The dissenters own about two per cent of the Pere Marquette's five per cent cumulative preferred stock.

The ICC had said their complaint was a matter for the courts to pass on. It said there was no matter of public interest involved and that it had not jurisdiction to hear the stockholders.

Justice Robert H. Jackson handed down the 5 to 3 high court decision to the contrary. Justice Felix Frankfurter dissented, joined by Chief Justice Fred M. Vinson and Justice Harold H. Burton. Justice Stanley Reed took no part in the case.

The stockholders objected to the treatment of their stock under the reorganization plan.

They said the stock should have been exchanged for new stock in the merged railroad at the rate of $172.50 a share instead of the $100 approved by the commission. The stockholders wanted to include unpaid dividends owed since 1931.

The commission ruled there was no proof of unfair treatment for that particular class of stock as a whole. Majority of the five per cent preferred stockholders approved the new stock distribution plan.

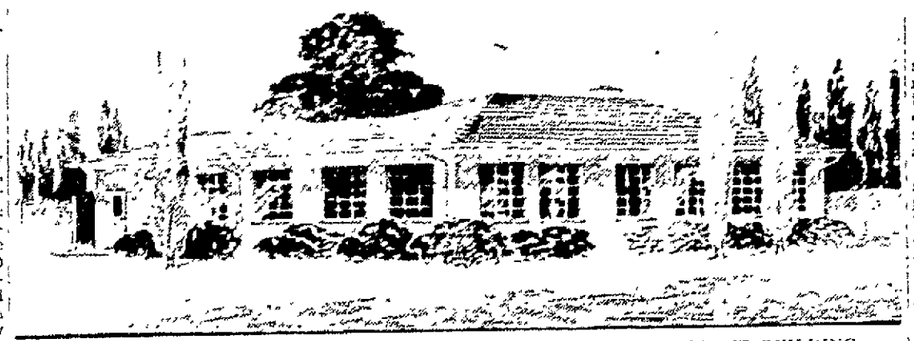
The dissenting stockholders appealed to the supreme court after the federal district court for eastern Virginia upheld the commission's view.

Rules on Chain Sales

The court declared illegal a wholesale discount plan that enables large grocery chains to undersell their independent competitors on some items. By a 7 to 2 decision, the high court sustained a 1945 federal trade commission order in which the Morton Salt Co. was found guilty of violating anti-trust laws by a discount system that favored large chain purchasers.

Refused to rule on a South Dakota tax of 10 cents a pound on oleomargarine. The court said no substantial federal question was involved.

Pollak Mill Adding New Office Building



ARCHITECT'S DRAWING OF NEW PLANT BUILDING

Latest phase of plant improvement to get under way at the Marion works of the Pollak Steel company involves enlargement and modernization of the personnel building, company officials reported today.

The Steward Construction company which was awarded the contract for the renovation job began work on the project last week.

When completed, the structure more on the appearance of a club house than an office building, will provide enlarged office space for Personnel Director Edward J. Baxter and the personnel staff.

The rearranged layout in addition will include a large assembly room to be utilized for plant committee meetings such as production planning and labor-management groups. Equipped for the comfort of the groups using it, the room will be decorated with photo murals of the plant and of Pollak products in use.

Motion picture projection facilities are also indicated in the plans in line with the company policy of utilizing visual aid educational methods in relation to labor management and production studies.

SCHINE THEATERS LOSE COURT SUIT

Anti-Trust Charges Upheld by Supreme Tribunal.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, May 4—The supreme court yesterday upheld in major part government charges the Schine Chain Theaters, Inc., operator of movie houses in six states, had violated the Sherman anti-trust act.

The justice department described Schine as the largest independent movie theater circuit in the United States. At the time anti-trust charges were filed, Schine had a financial interest in more than 150 theaters in small towns and cities in New York, Ohio, Kentucky, Maryland, Delaware and Virginia.

Justice Douglas delivered the 7-0 decision. Justices Murphy and Jackson took no part.

The supreme court at the same time upheld in part an order by the U. S. district court in Buffalo requiring Schine to recognize its activities "so that fair competition between the corporation and other theaters may be restored."

The district court found that Schine had monopolized the movie theater business in a substantial number of towns by acquiring competition theaters, and said the monopolization was a product of a conspiracy between the Schine circuit and eight major film distributors.

The district court ordered Schine to sell one or more theaters in towns where it has a complete monopoly of all theater operations or owns all of the first run theaters.

The decision gave $375,000 damages to William Goldman, operator of the Erlanger theater in Philadelphia. The supreme court refused to review it, thus permitting it to stand unchanged despite legal attacks by the leading motion picture firms.

In appealing to the supreme court, these firms said more than 60 similar suits are pending against them. Many millions of dollars are involved. Attorneys for some of the firms predicted the decision, if allowed to stand unchanged, "will bring down on the industry a flood of litigation which it may not be able to survive."

The firms appealing were Loew's, Inc., Paramount Pictures, RKO, 20th Century-Fox, Columbia Pictures Corporation, Warner Brothers Pictures, Inc., Universal Film exchanges, Inc., and United Artists Corporation.

Concrete Pouring For Wyandot Co. Harvests

Special to The Star

UPPER SANDUSKY, May 4—Twelve new concrete storage bins, capacity 100,000 bushels of grain, are nearing completion today at the Walton & Myers elevator here.

Two crews of workers on 12-hour shifts have kept the pouring for the building going constantly for the past two weeks. Stone trucks delivered materials directly to the skip of a large mixer at the base of the bins and the wet concrete was elevated to the top by a cable lift. Pre-fabricated forms and scaffolds were set up by jacks as the towers grew.

Height of the bins is 100 feet. Still to be constructed is a 29-foot tall head-house atop the bins. The workmen are employes of a Ft. Wayne contracting firm, Felts and Jack.

The old elevator was recently remodeled by the grain company employes and the new bins will provide additional storage for Wyandot county harvests.

A group of second grade girls will present a Maypole Dance, and a group of second grade boys will dramatize a song, "The Cowboy." Mrs. Mabel Peterson and Mrs. Ilo Wymer will direct the second grade pupils.

MORROW CO. NINES OPEN TOURNAMENT

Cardington, Johnsville, Edison Win 1st Round.

Special to The Star

CARDINGTON, May 4—The Cardington Pirates opened the 1948 Morrow county baseball tournament here yesterday with a 23-0 shellacking of a young Sparta nine. Johnsville took Chesterville, 8-2, in a second contest, and Edison shut out Iberia, 10-3, in the day's third game.

Cardington will meet Johnsville in the semi-finals at Cardington Wednesday at 1 p. m. and Edison will meet Marengo at 3 p. m.

Cardington hurler Wayne Mateer had a perfect day with Sparta's first year team as he held them hitless in a four-inning game that ended with a time limit. His teammates collected 17 hits. Bill Maxwell smashed a homer and Carl Stevens, Doyle Smith and Dalton Jenkins each rapped three hits.

Coach Bergraff's Johnsville Raiders took Chesterville when pitcher Darrel Brewer allowed but two hits good for two runs, while his teammates pounded out nine hits for eight runs.

Edison's Maynard Goare pitched a seven inning two-hitter as the Edison nine whipped Iberia, 10-3. He struck out 16. The Iberia runs came off a walk and four Edison errors.

Going into the sixth, Iberia held a 2-1 lead, but the Tigers exploded for a seven-run rally sending Dick Hendershot to the showers. Norman Worline's four-base blow put the Tigers ahead.

Treatment for Plantar Warts

Suppose you were left a fortune provided during and painful ulcers on condition you went about for- ever develop on the sole of the ever after with a pebble in your shoe. It seems a small price for such princely inheritance but a lot of people would rather go to an infection rest once dealt with than to [illegible]. Most warts are easy and decided correctly that the fo- to dra- ts, but plantar warts fortune would be discarded about another story. They are very the third day to get rid of the tenacious and difficult to eliminate people.

However that may be, there are some unfortunates who, in spite of Xrays. However, such perfect have all the discomfort of treatments are not always available the pebble without the consola- able, and sometimes they do not tion of financial reward. They are destroy the growth.

Those who suffer from plantar A new treatment has been pre- warts. Now warts may occur on pared which does away any part of the body, but they are with the [illegible] patient, and cures a large percentage. It causes no complications.

A ring pad is put around the wart so that when the patient puts weight on his foot, the wart protrudes through the hole in the pad. Then peanol or carbol acid is applied to the wart in the proper dilution and immediately followed with nitric acid. The substances are applied carefully in small amounts and only by the doctor to make sure that just the wart itself is touched by them and that the surrounding normal skin is not damaged.

Before these substances are applied the wart is pared down with a sharp knife or razor blade. If blisters or other signs of ingrowth are present in the area of the wart, the treatment must be delayed until this condition has been cleared up.

In the treatment with peanol and nitric acid, the patient experiences no discomfort. An ointment, made up of salicylic acid and placed over the wart in the ring softens the wart so that it is trimmed more easily at the time of the next treatment. The entire pad is then covered and fastened to the foot with strips of adhesive tape.

The patient is permitted to bathe and is instructed to continue with his usual activities. Vigorous athletics, however, are prohibited. The dressing should not be disturbed.

In four or five days, the dressing is removed and the wart with the surrounding callus is pared down as much as possible. The procedure is then repeated as before.

From two to twelve treatments will be required to eradicate the wart, the average being six. After the treatments have been completed, the patient should be examined monthly to make sure that the wart has not returned.

Questions and Answers

R. A. M.: You have told me something about eczema.

Answer: However, a good deal of the discomfort of the individual is easily influenced by suggestion, and in fact, many people with eczema do. States are produced by the suggestion. Persons who are emotionally unstable are the ones who suffer chiefly from the trouble.

In Plain Words

By James Marlow

THE supreme court has given [illegible] an important ruling on [illegible] question.

Can a person, because of race or color, be barred from owning or living on property anywhere in the United States?

The court's answer was not a single yes or no. It was a kind of double answer. To understand it requires the background.

In 1866 when congress was [illegible] the fourteenth Negro [illegible] got equal treatment the 14th amendment to the Constitution was adopted.

James Marlow

It says:

"... No state shall make or enforce any law which shall abridge the privileges or immunities of citizens of the United States; nor shall any state deprive any person of life, liberty or property without due process of law ..."

The important thing to keep in mind is the part which says no state shall deprive any person of life, liberty or property without due process of law.

In the years since 1866 the U. S. supreme court has given that amendment [illegible] interpretations. Sometimes it has held that a state can't deprive a person because of race or color from owning property and sometimes it has held that it can.

BUT EVEN though such laws were knocked out, property owners kept on agreeing among themselves not to sell or rent to people of other color or race, like Negroes or Mongolians.

Then recently, this happened:

A Negro family in Missouri and another in Michigan bought homes in white neighborhoods where the white people had agreed not to sell or rent to Negroes.

So those white people in both states went to their state courts to have their agreements backed up by court order.

And in both cases, Missouri and Michigan, the state courts said the agreements were legal and the Negroes would have to get out.

THEN THE NEGROES went to the U. S. supreme court to fight the state court rulings.

The Negroes pointed to the 14th amendment. They said their rights under that amendment were violated if they couldn't buy property where they wished.

And yesterday the supreme court upheld the Negroes but in this way:

1. The court said it's all right, and no violation of the 14th amendment if white property owners agree among themselves not to rent or sell to Negroes or any group because of race or color.

The court said that's just a private agreement and is not covered by the 14th amendment which says only that a STATE can't deprive a person of his right to property without due process of law.

2. But—it's a violation of the 14th amendment—and therefore unconstitutional — when a state court backs up such a private, restrictive agreement. Why?

BECAUSE THEN IT is a state acting "without due process of law." Why? Because the court is acting for the state and the supreme court already has ruled a state can't have a law barring a person from owning property on account of his race or color.

So, in short, the supreme court decision means:

You, Jones and Smith can agree among yourselves not to sell or rent to a Negro. You're not violating the 14th amendment by that.

"That amendment," says Chief Justice Vinson, "has application only to state action, protects no rights against merely private conduct, however discriminatory or wrongful."

But, from now on, you can't get a state court to back up a private agreement. And it's going to take a lot of people to get your neighborhood so that a court order can be issued to throw you out.

The supreme court decision speaks only of race or color.

Love's Perilous Path

By ADELE GARRISON

MY father has had occasion to employ Mr. Kennedy, the florist, before in more than one problem during the war, and I was not surprised to see the elderly man turn an absolutely non-committal face toward me, even though I knew that the farm must have surprised him.

"You see," I began in explanation, but he put up nothing about it except what you wish me to do. What I do not know, I cannot betray even by an involuntary change of my facial muscles."

I heard an amused chuckle from Dicky.

"I'd back your facial muscles against any curious gossips," he said, and the old florist's lips twitched.

"Nevertheless," he said, "I must persist in my refusal to hear nothing which is not necessary to the job I am to do."

"Then, here is the program," I said promptly. "The house is to be decorated as if a large wedding were to be celebrated, but we wish you to make only two trips to the farm, one tomorrow night, late, nearly midnight, when you will plan your decoratoions, and one, on another night, in about a week, when you will do the decorating."

His face did not change, but I saw a question in his eyes which I promptly answered.

"Of course, I know, if you furnished all the greenery, you would not be able to compass it in one trip, but when you come tomorrow night, I wish you to estimate how many branches of laurel, evergreen and ground pine you will need. Make the estimate liberal, and stipulate how long the branches of bushes and trees shall be, and any other details you wish to give our man, Jim, who will get them for you. If you have those in readiness, will you be able to bring the other things in one trip?"

His eyes showed his relief, and his answer was as prompt as mine had been.

"Oh, yes, that solves the problem," he said. "You have no preference as to flowers?"

"The bride and her mother may have some directions about her bridal bouquet and corsages," I said. "I shall send you a registered letter in a few days, with a return address to M. J. Smith, at a street address which my father often uses. In that letter, I will give all final directions on minor details, but I wish you to use your own judgment about the house decorations. I know from experience that it is infallible."

"Thank you," he said, and there was infinite pleasure and gratitude in the simple words and in his resonant voice.

"The wedding ceremony will take place against the bay window in the library, which, as you know, is an unusually long room," I said. "The window will be so draped and shuttered that no possible silhouette can reach through it, and in addition the grounds will be amply guarded.

"Make the room look as much like a church as you possibly can, with a ribbon-guarded passageway through the center down which the bridal party will pass. The guests will be ranged on either side of the bridegroom, the best man, and the clergyman will come through a small door at the right of the bay window, while the bride and her attendants will come down the main stairway, which you will decorate as you see fit. They will enter the doorway at the end of the library opposite the bay window.

"The only music will be from a piano which will stand in a small music room adjoining the library, and through which the bride will pass from the hall.

"The dining room will have two tables," I said, "but except for the walls and windows, you need not plan the decorations there until you hear from me. The bride and her mother will have some ideas about the table flowers, I am sure."

Montana Veterans Official Visits Here

In this section of the country for a national conference at Detroit, Mich., last week, R. Blaine Downs, head of the Veterans Placement service in Montana, is visiting relatives in Ohio. He is a brother of Mrs. T. A. Ballinger of Alger and arrived to visit Rev. and Mrs. Ballinger there following close of the Detroit conference Saturday night. Today he visited nieces, Miss Elaine Ballinger of Marion, and Mrs. Hugh E. Hookway of Mt. Vernon, and the latter's family there. He expects to start the return trip to his home at Bozeman, Mont., Wednesday. Following his graduation from high school at West Mansfield, Logan county, during the time that he made his home with his sister near there, he entered the army and served overseas during World War I. For a number of years he has lived in Montana, where he went following the close of the war, and several years ago was appoined to direct the veterans employment work of the state.

Two Possibilities

PASSAGE of some kind of a peacetime draft law is as much of a congressional certainty as anything can be in a national election year.

Only one thing now could change the prevailing impression that public opinion is ready for a revival of selective service as the most effectual guarantee of preparedness short of universal military training.

The one thing is, of course, a change of heart in the Kremlin.

There is a dangerous possibility, in that connection—that the Kremlin might capitalize on American misgivings about a peacetime draft by pretending to have a change of heart long enough to lull this country to sleep. It wouldn't be surprising if sometime before congress completed action on some kind of a peacetime draft law that the Kremlin tried its hand at a few gestures of appeasement.

The other possibility, more cheerful, is that the United States may achieve peacetime security for the first time in its history. For generations, those who understood the problem have been advising congress that the way to keep the peace is to discourage aggressors by remaining strong. If security could be achieved as a means of offsetting Russian expansionism, the United States would owe its gratitude to the Kremlin for helping it to see what it never understood before.

A Week of Cheer and Uplift

EVEN though there may be tendency toward pessimism and gloom in viewing the general state of affairs these days, we have evidence that in this country something cheerful and uplifting always comes along to brighten the scene. The brightener on this occasion is especially stimulating and cheering. It is National Music Week—the twenty-fifth anniversary celebration—and this, we are told, is the largest and in every way the most notable observance on record. It's a happy observance, too. In truth it can be said that anyone singing the blues during this seven-day period will get few persons, if any, to join in the chorus.

As usual, Marion is in step with the nation-wide accentuated and expanded observance, or to be more exact, is carrying through a week's program which is likely to surpass those arranged in most other communities of comparable size. It is a week filled with music for Marion, with not a day missed in the admirably arranged schedule. Indeed, if there is a single person with drooping or embittered spirits left in the community by the close of the week, it will not be the fault of the National Music Week observance committee. This group's work has brought about an achievement outstanding in Marion's musical history and one that most certainly will rate among Ohio's top Music Week observances for 1948.

Dewey's Good Advice

FOR the opening gun of his Oregon campaign Governor Dewey chose to talk about communism in the United States—and one of his thoughts was a bell-ringer. He believes the surest way to strengthen the Communist party in the United States would be to drive it underground.

"I have been increasingly shocked," he said, "as I have watched the repeated proposal of this easy panacea of getting rid of ideas we do not like by passing a law. .You cannot kill an idea by force...You can't kill it by this crude proposition to outlaw it. You cannot fight communism by adopting its own method."

Governor Dewey shares this point of view with the house committee on un-American activities and FBI Director Hoover, among others. His testimony is competent because New York City is the capital of communism in the United States. Its Commies have ganged up with labor unions and Democrats on many occasions to beat Dewey, who has had as much provocation as any man in public life to want to get rid of them by passing a law.

Controlling Communists

AFTER debating whether to suppress Communists, the house un-American activities committee has decided against it and brought forth a bill to compel them to operate in the open or face penalties up to 10 years in prison and $10,000 fines.

The bill would require the party to file the names of officers and members with the justice department, the list to be open for public inspection. Organizations the attorney general designates as Communists fronts would have to maintain lists of officers for official inspection. Literature and broadcasts under Communist sponsorship would have to be labeled as such. Party members would be denied passports. The party would have to make an accounting to the government for all funds received and the purposes for which expended.

Following the recommendations of FBI Director Hoover and others who testified before the party underground.
it, the committee has decided against driving

Scanning the Record

By George E. Sokolsky

Paul Robeson's Political Secrecy.

THE Associated Press states: "Columbus, April 16—Paul Robeson, colored operatic singer, told a colored editor here yesterday it was none of his damn business whether he was a Communist.

"In a news conference . . . Mr. Robeson gave the reply to a question by George Lawrence, managing editor of The Ohio State News, colored weekly here.

"'The last person in the world I would expect to ask that question,' Mr. Robeson added, 'would be a Negro and a representative of the Negro press. This is no longer a matter of communism; it's a matter of civil rights. Draw your own conclusions.'"

SOKOLSKY

Paul Robeson's error is that a man who projects himself into the public life of this country can have no secrets. His affairs are the public's business. His hearers and readers, his supporters and opponents have a right to know his background. That is one reason for the popularity of "Who's Who in America." It gives an index to the mind of the public figure by recounting his origin, his activities and his associations.

Evidence of Scholarship

In his authorized account of his life, Paul Robeson gives considerable data concerning his academic career, which is notable. A. B. and honorary M. A., Rutgers; LL. B. Columbia; LL.D. Hamilton, Moorhouse, Howard. The account also tells of his achievements on the stage and his tours and travels. But it says not one word of his politics, to which, in recent years, he has devoted himself. Apparently, that he wishes to keep secret while he stands in the agitational limelight. Congressional files show him to be most active in joining fellow-traveler organizations and in signing such petitions and sponsoring such causes as the communists project. Altogether his name appears 74 times in this connection.

Whether he is or is not a member of the Communist party, he will not say. But he has been acting in public as though he were a member, and if this is innocence, it is of a kind that is wholly concealed. In a word, his innocence follows a pattern of lack of intelligence or hatred for American institution. Certainly no one with so many degrees can be quite so innocent.

So he says that it is no one's damn business whether he is or is not a Communist. Yet, Taft, Dewey, Stassen, Martin and Vandenberg are willing to say that they are Republicans, and Truman and thousands of others that they are Democrats. They find no need for concealing their party affiliations. Why are so many ashamed or afraid to say whether they are or are not Communists?"

Easily Answered

The answer is, of course, simple as Communists are now unpopular, some of those men and women are unwilling to make themselves totally unacceptable. Furthermore, there is a growing acknowledgement of the incontestable fact that the Communists and their fellow-travelers constitute a fifth column for Soviet Russia in the United States. Each one of them is suspected of being a spy and a saboteur, a hidden enemy of this nation. Therefore, they seek to avoid being labeled for what they are.

Secondly, those who say that they are not Communists, and are, never know when the President and the attorney general will authorize J. Edgar Hoover to make public the vast data on the subject which the FBI has accumulated. The administration is still protecting the secrecy of the Communists and their associates and the President is quarreling with congress over loyalty records, but the Communists and their associates know that the day will come when Mr. Truman will fight communism in the United States as he fought it in Italy.

Evidence of Courage

The courage of George Lawrence of the Ohio State News is to be lauded. He is in a class with Rabbi Benjamin Schultz, of the American Jewish League against Communism, who has risked personal attack in this fight. On the eve of a visit to Los Angeles with his anti - Communist message, Rabbi Schultz discovered that a campaign had been organized to discredit him and to bring upon him unpopularity among his own people. That record will have to await the day when American officialdom develops the courage to fight this cancer in American life domestically as well as abroad.

The Sum and the Parts

By Stewart Alsop

ROME

WILL the European recovery program make possible a real recovery in Italy, or can a free Italy survive only as a permanent pensioner of the United States? As the political placards are torn down, as the excitements of the election fade into memory, that remains the great conundrum, not only for Italy but for every nation of non-Soviet Europe. Moreover, with the Communists increasingly isolated, with a stable government at last in prospect, the European recovery program should have a fair test here.

ALSOP

Especially Italian conservatives and nationalists, there are those who predict flatly (and with an odd lugubrious pleasure) that the test is bound to fail. These gloomy prophets are by no means fools, and their reasoning is worth a hearing. Its key is a word which the reporter in Italy always sooner or later hears in every conversation with an Italian, whether Premier Alcide de Gasperi or a chance acquaintance in a lobby. The word is "emigration." For as one observer rather brutally put it, "the Italians must export to live, and most of what they must export is Italians."

The facts are simple. There is a net yearly population increase of between 400,000 and 500,000 on this crowded peninsula. Except by emigration (or by those traditional methods, famine and war) there is no way in which this constant increase can be controlled, first because this is a Catholic country, and second because the Italian peasant or worker has always regarded a large family as a form of old-age insurance.

Premier de Gasperi hopes to find living space abroad for 200,000 Italians every year. Yet even if this hope is fulfilled, the pessimists point out, the Italian population will still shoot up by a million people every four years. And how can this poor country, they ask, a country almost without natural resources, hope to feed and clothe and shelter these people? Even now there are almost 2,000,000 unemployed, many agricultural workers live little better than animals, and millions of industrial laborers work only part time, 20 or 24 hours a week.

The central and eastern European markets for Italy's delicious fruits and vegetables are largely cut off. The world's rich, squeezed by taxation even in the rich United States, no longer buy Italy's fine silk and Carrara marble and specially built luxury cars. Without native raw materials, Italy cannot hope to compete in world markets in heavy industry. And above all, everywhere in the world the doors are closed or closing on Italy's teeming population excess. Italy could survive in the old world of open borders and open markets, but not today. Thus the European recovery program is no more than a means of postponing, for four short years, the inevitable catastrophe.

Thus argue the pessimists, in this immoderately cheerful country, there is a certain grim logic in their reasoning. Yet it is interesting that not one of the hard-hearted American experts here subscribes to this reasoning. The experts do not maintain that Italy is certain to recover. But they are unanimous in maintaining that Italy can recover.

Much will, of course, depend on the Italians themselves. More than is generally realized has already been accomplished. Inflation has been controlled. Production is on the increase. Reconstruction of the vast war damage is under way. The Italians are eager to work: no one can spend even a week or so here without sensing the enormous vitality of the Italian people.

Much remains to be done, and Premier de Gasperi, although he expects opposition from the conservatives in his own party, is determined that it shall be done. He and his advisers speak of tax reform, land reform, irrigation schemes, plans for the reorganization of the chaotic Italian industry.

Yet even all this—and here again the experts are unanimous—will not be enough. Italy can recover, but Italy cannot recover alone, as a separate economic and political entity. To this extent the prophets of doom are entirely correct.

To a remarkable degree, the conviction is growing here that the European whole is greater than the sum of all its parts: that not only Italy but England and France and all the western European nations can only recover permanently as integral parts of a politically and economically unified western Europe. The more farseeing go further, predicting that the recovery of Europe, even after unification, will depend upon the political and economic organization of the whole non-Soviet world. Only thus, it must be admitted, can fundamental solutions be found for such problems as the Italian population surplus.

The Brotherhoods Have Their Steam Up

A nationwide rail strike is scheduled for a week from today.

That's one hunted the public hopes won't be on time.

But the Brotherhoods are already practicing up on their theme song: "We've been working on the railroad . . . . and not getting enough for it."

But the railroads are having a hard time. They can't get coal one month and anybody to shovel it the next.

Incidentally, what with John L. and the Brotherhoods, if the airlines don't make a profit this year, it won't be labor's fault.

Inevitably, if the strike materializes, a lot of people will begin talking about nationalizing the railroads. But this, of course, is ridiculous. The government can't afford it.

U. S. Should Reject Fatalism

By Walter Lippmann

LAST week the President received from the Federal Council of the Churches of Christ in America a petition—addressed to the administration and to the people—pleading with them not to "tolerate any complacency about war," and to "reject fatalism about war." Now it may be arguable whether in fact there are many, or even any, men in high places who are complacent about war. But there is no doubt that the fatalistic view is widely held that war is inevitable, that nothing effective can be done to avert it, that all that can be done is to prepare for it.

LIPPMANN

The belief that war is inevitable rests on the idea that the two ways of life and systems of government—the Communist and American — are so antithetical and so irreconcilable that no settlement, even if one could be negotiated, would be observed. This view is plausible. There is no doubt, so at least it seems to me, that the Soviet government and the Communist movement, seek, if they can, to dominate the world, and that they do not feel bound by, if they are able to evade them, agreements which seem to renounce this grandiose ambition. But in a conflict of this kind what they can do is more important than what they seek to do. Therefore, it does not follow at all that war is inevitable, that negotiation is useless, and that settlements are impossible.

Those who draw this conclusion, the fatalists about war, are in the last analysis the victims of the same fundamental fallacy, though in reverse, as is Mr. Henry Wallace. Like him they believe that peace can be had only when there are no radical conflicts of interests and purpose. He thinks that peace is possible because the conflict is imaginary. They think peace is impossible because the conflict is real. Both identify peace with the absence of conflict.

But the fact is that diplomacy is the art of dealing with real conflicts, and its object is to make peace and keep the peace by regulating these real conflicts. Diplomacy would be as easy as rolling off a log if it were concerned only with peace among peoples who think alike and trust each other. It is the most difficult of all the arts of government because it is concerned with peace among those who do not think alike and do not trust one another.

Voices Raised

The fatalistic view, against the Protestant churchmen have raised their voices, has its ultimate root in the naive notion that two rival systems of government, religion, and morality cannot exist on the same planet, and that the one must destroy the other.

The alternative view is that rival systems have always existed on the same planet, and though they have clashed, their wars have usually been indecisive. Great conflicts of great rival systems, as for example between Christendom and Islam, or between Catholicism and Protestantism, have almost invariably died down in a stalemate. They have ended not in a universal triumph but in a partition of the contested area, and a modus vivendi, and then of a willingness to live and let live—because a universal triumph has become demonstrably impossible.

More than a hundred years ago, when the czars were still firmly on throne, long before Lenin and Stalin were born, while Karl Marx was, if such a quaint notion is believable, just out of his teens, a French nobleman, the Marquis de Custine by name, visited Russia and wrote a book of his impressions.

"Russia," he said, "sees Europe as a prey which soonor or later will be delivered to her by our dissensions; among us she foments anarchy with the expectation of profiting from a corruption which she assists because it assists her ends; it is the story of Poland re-enacted on a grand scale. For many years Paris has been reading revolutionary journals . . . paid for by Russia. 'Europe,' they say, in St. Petersburg, 'is taking the road that Poland has followed; it is enervating itself with liberalism while we remain powerful precisely because we are not free.'"

Russia Suffered

Yet as a matter of fact, whatever they may have believed in St. Petersburg, Europe did not become the prey of Russia, and in the century which followed it was not Europe that was enervated by liberalism but czarist Russia that disintegrated under despotism.

Nor did the fact that the rulers of Russia were hostile to Europe and its civilization make war between France and Russia inevitable, or cause the statesmen of western Europe who distrusted Russia profoundly to suspend diplomatic relations, or shrink from the labor and the frustrations and the disappointments of negotiation.

To be sure these statesmen and diplomats did not create one world of like-minded nations. But for a hundred years they maintained peace, except for local and limited wars, by an untiring determination to regulate, since they could not abolish, the rivalry of empires.

Flights Cure Coughs

MOSCOW — An announcement from Riga says many children have been cured of whooping cough by taking them aloft in an airplane and keeping them there for an hour or more.

Special planes have been equipped for this treatment and the report says the children appear to be as thrilled over their rides as their parents are over the treatment.

Daily Bible Thought

Happiness comes as a by-product not as the goal of a direct pursuit. Selfish pursuit of happiness ends in broken homes, broken hearts and broken lives. "Seek ye first the kingdom of God and his righteousness; and all these things shall be added unto you."—Matt. 6:33.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

Hollywood Wedding

The wedding guests had gathered
To see the happy pair
Come down the aisle together
Their old routine to share;
The organist was playing
The tune "Forever More,"
When from a pew a voice came
Demanding "What's the score?"

II

A call of "Popcorn! Peanuts!"—
A sarill "Programs and cokes! . .
Ya cannot tell the players
Without a scorecard, folks! . . .
(Twas plain that simple guesswork
Would not suffice, alack!
In Hollywood they follow
A number on each back).

III

The dominie was nervous
As he came through the door;
He asked the lovebirds, "Have I
Not seen you two before?"
"It could be," said the couple
With practiced poise and grace;
"The music is familiar—
We can't recall the face!"

IV

The pastor changed his glasses
And said, 'mid wedding bells,
"I still think I have seen you,
Each with somebody ELSE!"
"Quite true," the couple answered,
"It surely might be so:
The details, though, escape us—
One gets confused, you know!"

V

"Play ball!" a best man bellowed
"I can't stand this delay;
I have a busy schedule—
This is my FIRST TODAY!"....
(Identities in some towns
Are checked on, well and good,
And sequences established,
But NOT in Hollywood')

VI

The bride by now was nervous
For it was getting late
(And she was not a lady
To dally at the plate);
"Get on with this," she ordered,
"The season's flying fast;
It now is several hours
Since I was married last!"

VII

"Your names?" the pastor asked them
(Each one by now a wreck):
They both delayed an answer
To check and doublecheck;
"Who's up?" then cried an usher
In tones more curt than nice;
"Their names are unimportant—
A number will suffice!"

VIII

"Okay," the pastor whispered,
"Do you, Miss Number Eight
Take Mister Nine to honor
And cherish as your mate?"...
She answered and he stamped them
With wisdom in his gaze.
"NOT GOOD FOR ONE THROUGH JOURNEY AND VOID IN THIRTY DAYS!"

A lawyer paid $9,000 a year by an insurance company to help in an honest selection of tenants in a low-rental building project has been arrested charged with taking bribes to get doctors and dentists high on the priority list. The indignation is naturally pretty stiff, but what about the score of professional men who were willing participants in the racket and made no kick until questioned?

How To Face an Issue

By TRUMAN TWILL

A dozen times a week, oftener in national election years, the public is called upon to face issues. There is a right way to do it.

Place the feet together, breathe deeply a dozen times with the eyes closed, then open them wide and face the issue.

Take note of the fine detail. Avoid being confused by the flashing lights and the acrobats who have been placed strategically to divert attention to something else.

After facing the issue squarely for five minutes, walk away from it. Try to think about something else, to clear the mind. Do this until the mind feels fresh and relaxed.

Return to the issue, using a circuitous route. Sneak up on it from the side and see how it looks from there. Do not look too long, however, or the issue may seem to be one-sided.

Go away. Think of something else. By this time the issue will have begun to take form but do not close the books on it—not yet. Sneak up on it from the other side. Look at it from there.

Examine it from the rear. Find out who is holding it up and flashing the lights out front. Ask some leading questions. Take the answers with a grain of salt dissolved in cold water.

Seek out others who have faced the same issue. Compare notes with them on its length, breadth and depth. Take what they say with salt and cold water, too, because they may be shills.

Spend a half hour reviewing a few of the more familiar passages in American history. Look for points of similarity. Remember, there is nothing new under the sun, except names invented to make old things sound new.

Calculate the cost. Estimate the benefits. Find out who is getting how much profit at what point in the proceedings. Examine the pedigrees of the personalities involved. How many championships do they hold?

Go back in a week and walk right up to the issue. Poke at it with an inquisitive forefinger. Shove it, to see if it's on a firm foundation. Examine the texture and probe for stuffing.

If the issue still seems solid and four-square after having been faced in this fashion, decide whether to be for it or against it. Make the decision free from all prejudice, local coloration, self-interest and misconceptions. It's a good trick if you can do it.

What People Read

The average book reader in 1947 appeared unconcerned about international troubles, the recent war or the atomic bomb, the American Library Association reports. His first and foremost interest was his personal problems. Housing ranked second and business third.

Announcing the results of its annual questionnaire on reading trends, the association at its mid-winter conference said public libraries which it polled reported that psychology books were in "tremendous" demand. Material on atomic energy, World War II and international problems was practically untouched.

One librarian said numerous patrons had requested a book "to believe in and live by."

Investment advisory services were popular among small business men, and interest in investments, with special emphasis on the stock markets, has increased since the war.

The housing shortage and high cost of labor increased the demand for books on home building, repair and decoration. Housewives, trying to plan economical menus, borrowed two and three cookbooks at a time. There was a pronounced interest in books on handicraft. The demand for travel books, high in 1946, continued strong in 1947.

The five issues which the majority of those polled agree are the most important will provide the basis of a "great issues" program in

Take Familiar Toy Visiting with Baby

When you take baby visiting bring along one or more of his own toys. On waking alone in strange surroundings, if his eye falls immediately on something familiar, he will feel secure and therefore prove better "behaved."

Colored balls, birds, stars and animals are so designed that they may be hung over crib or carriage.

GOOD TIMES FOR BABIES

Look up in the sky for the flying babies with their specially-designed cradles, sterilized toys, and pretty hostesses to coddle and feed them. Look around the nursery and behold in the recently-developed conveniences the reminder that the nation's millions of babies are important business.

Under normal conditions, eight to 12 inches of snow equals about one inch of water.

Here's Good Picture Of a Healthy Baby

Here's a picture of a healthy child: Red lips, rosy cheeks, straight body, firm muscles, smooth skin.

He's vigorous and active . . . probably a little noisy.

He sleeps well, eats well, has no aches and pains.

He moves his bowels daily, and has no abnormal discharge from eyes, ears or nose.

He breathes with his mouth closed.

You're a lucky, caretaking mother if he's yours.

Heavy Bundling Of Baby Can Be Overdone

Many parents strive to protect their youngsters from cold by bundling them up in too heavy clothing. When indoors, they often close windows and keep the house heated. Too much heat, however, is a hindrance to health, the same as too little of it.

Outdoors, the outer clothing should be warm without bulk, while indoors a window should be kept open from both the top and bottom to provide proper ventilation without drafts.

New Teething Ring Is Made of Plastic

A new three-cornered teething ring available in several [illegible] comes on a surgical rubber [illegible] which baby can't unfasten.

It comes in a set of three [illegible]. For the very youngest [illegible] three rings are strung on [illegible] bar first; as he grows and [illegible] to manipulate more weight [illegible] are added. They are made [illegible] sturdy plastic that can be [illegible] thoroughly hygienic.

Do YOU Own A "Scratching" Dog?
If you own and are fond of a dog that is continually scratching, digging, rubbing, and biting himself until his skin is raw and sore, don't just feel sorry for him. The dog can't help himself. But you may. He may be clean and flea free and just suffering from an intense itching irritation that has centered in the nerve endings of his skin. Do as thousands of pleased dog owners are doing.
At any good drug store, pet or sport shop, get a 35c package of Rex Hunters Dog Powders, and give them once a week. Note the quick improvement. One owner writes: "My female setter on Sept. 29th did not have a handful of hair on her body—all scratched and bitten off. I gave her the powders as directed. By Nov. 16th she was all haired out." Learn what they will do for your dog. Make a 35c test. (Economy size box for only $1.50). Important. Keep your dog clean and flea free with Rex Hunters Medicated Dog Soap and Pine Oil Disinfectant.

TO DO ONE THING WELL

• The chief objective of everyone should be to do one thing well. Your doctor accomplished this objective when he spent years of his life in preparing himself to care for you when you need medical attention. How foolish, then, to depend on others. When illness comes to you or any member of your family consult your physician without delay. Be sure that he is a licensed M.D. from an accredited school of medicine. Then bring your prescriptions to us for expert compounding.

For Folks Who Suffer From ✓ STOMACH GAS
✓ SOUR FOOD TASTE
✓ ACID INDIGESTION
Do you feel bloated and miserable after every meal, taste sour, bitter food? If so, here is how you may get blessed relief from this nervous distress.
Everytime food enters the stomach a vital gastric juice must flow normally to break-up certain food particles; else the food may ferment. Sour food, acid indigestion and gas frequently cause a morbid, touchy, fretful, peevish, nervous condition, loss of appetite, underweight, restless sleep, weakness.
To get real relief you must increase the flow of this vital gastric juice. Medical authorities, in independent laboratory tests on human stomachs, have by positive proof shown that SSS Tonic is amazingly effective in increasing this flow when it is too little or scanty due to a non-organic stomach disturbance. This is due to the SSS Tonic formula which contains special and potent activating ingredients.
Also, SSS Tonic helps build-up non-organic, weak, watery blood in nutritional anemia—so with a good flow of this gastric digestive juice, plus rich red-blood you should eat better, sleep better, feel better, work better, play better.

Roving Reports

By Hal Boyle

LEAD, S. D.

THE story of gold in the Black Hills—and it is the same story everywhere—is summed up in the life of one little man and one giant corporation.

The man was—past tense—"Potato Creek Johnny" Perrett, a bewhiskered old prospector who spent his lifetime searching for gold in chunks and did manage to find the biggest nugget ever turned up in these "Magic Mountains."

Hal Boyle

The corporation is—present tense—the Homestake Mining Co., which has been looking for gold in specks here since 1877.

The specks paid off better than the nuggets. Potato Creek Johnny lived out his life in hopeful poverty. The Homestake became the largest gold mine in the Western Hemisphere. It is still producing.

Potato Creek Johnny was typical of earlier adventurers who flocked here by the thousands after the electric news swept America in 1874: "Gold has been found in the Black Hills." It was found by two scouts for Gen. George A. Custer.

THE WHITE MAN paid no heed to government warnings to keep out of the area, which belonged to the Sioux Indians. Mining towns rose, flourished and died in a period of months. Men became wealthy overnight. The Indians finally gave up their lands and received their customary reward—a paper treaty from the Great White Father and a lot of fragile promises.

As the gold dwindled in the creek beds, the boom died and the adventurers moved on or settled down to workaday jobs.

Then began the period of business adventure in gold mining. A syndicate from San Francisco in 1876 purchased two claims totaling 10 acres and began a systematic and scientific mining gamble on the Homestake site.

It took big money, but the syndicate had it. It ripped great holes in the earth, and built its own smelter.

BUT A FEW of the oldtime prospectors stayed on. With a burro for company and a pick, shovel and pan for tools they ranged the hills and creekbeds, caught by a fever that never died—the hope of the "big find," the new El Dorado that always was around the next bend, somewhere on the next ridge.

The nuggets were few, the specks many. The Homestake sunk new shafts, hired more men, installed huge machinery, built its own sawmill and power plant, expanded to 6,000 acres.

As the years bent him down, old Potato Creek Johnny became a Black Hills symbol, a faded picturesque character familiar to thousands of tourists. A mild, pleasant man less than five feet tall, he had sincerity and pride. Sometimes his friends were hard put to figure a way to get him to take the food he needed.

JOHNNY DIED in 1943, and the people of Deadwood buried him in a hillside grave by "Wild Bill" Hickok. The grave overlooks the vast Homestake mine, which provides a livelihood, directly or indirectly, for 30,000 people. It is owned by 13,000 investors, few of whom ever saw raw gold.

The specks taken out of the Homestake amount to more than $460,000,000. The biggest nugget Potato Creek Johnny ever found was worth $139.25.

But he never had any regrets. Neither does the Homestake Mining Co., Inc.

It is estimated that prehistoric men had an average life of about 18 years.

Tall lighted yellow candles in crystal holders carried out the golden jubilee motif. The invocation was spoken by Mrs. Dale Lawrence, president-elect of the federation. Bouquets of lilacs and other colorful flowers were used throughout the rooms. Just before the serving of the dessert, which was ice cream molds decorated with the figures "50" in gold, fifty small candles surrounding the cake were lighted after which it was cut by Mrs. Depew Head of Columbus, a past president of the federation, and served to the guests. When the candles were lighted the group stood to sing "Auld Lang Syne."

Musical Program

For the musical part of the program, Miss Alicia Zachman of Columbus, formerly of Marion, was heard in a group of delightful voice numbers, accompanied at the piano by Paul Strauss, also of Columbus, and Mrs. Harold K. Mouser and Mrs. John F. Lacey presented a pleasing program of piano duos. Miss Zachman sang, "The Morning Wind," Branscomb, "Minor and Major," Spross, "Think on Me," Scott, "Blue Are Her Eyes," Watts and a Negro spiritual, "Little David." For an encore she sang "In Your Garden," Nutting. The piano numbers were allegro from "Sonatina in C Minor," Mozart, three Brahms waltzes and "Jamaican Rhumba," Benjamon.

Following greetings extended by Mrs. Sutherland, Mrs. James Ralston, fine arts chairman, presented Mrs. William Ackerman Jr., music chairman, Mrs. Robert Cripps, literature chairman-elect, Miss Ann Mereness, conservation chairman, Mrs. Walter E. Hane, art chairman, Mrs. B. H. Buettin, social chairman, Miss Edna Dutton, publicity chairman, and Mrs. W. N. Harder, honorary member of the fine arts committee. Mrs. Cripps, speaking for Mrs. Clare Smith, chairman, who was unable to attend, announced the following winners in the various fine arts day exhibits and contests.

Scrapbooks—Searchlight Literary club of Prospect, first; Athenaeum club, second; Clionian club, third. Honorable mention went to the Art club scrapbook.

Literature—Miss Madge Cooper of Le Mercure, first in the short story contest; Mrs. Walter E. Hane, Le Mercure, informal essay contest; Mrs. Bessie Blake Saunders, Ben Hur club, formal essay; Mrs. Mildred Wills, Marion Lecture Recital club, special poetry award; Mrs. Milo Gast, All Arts of Prospect, poetry, first honors, and Mrs. Saunders, second. Mrs. McElhaney, Mrs. Don Burton of the Twentieth Century club of LaRue, and Mrs. Carl Setterfield of the Three Arts club were tied for third place. Miss Mereness announced the awards in the flower display in the fine arts exhibit. First honors went to the Round Table club whose exhibit of lilacs and vari-colored tulips were in an old fashioned stone china vase; second to the Delphian club, for an old fashioned spoonholder filled with tulips; third to the Clionian club for an exhibit of pansies arranged in a saucer. Honorable mention went to the Current Topic, Le Mercure and Research clubs.

Special Mention

Special mention was made of the awarding of first honors in the exhibit at the state federation convention held recently at Columbus to the Marion Art club for its scrapbook.

Mrs. J. Burlin Johnson of Dayton, first vice president of the Ohio Federation of Women's Clubs brought greetings from that organization as did Mrs. Chester A. Smith, president of Central District, and Mrs. Sutherland presented her staff of officers and also introduced Miss Florence Durfee before turning the program over to Mrs. W. N. Harder, a past president of the local federation and also of the state organization, now serving as historian.

Pages of federation history were turned back as Mrs. Harder told of the organization of the first club in the country before presenting the early years of the Marion County Federation. Paying tribute to Miss Louise Cunningham whose untiring research and compiling of records were responsible for the valuable history of the local organization, Mrs. Harder related that the first club to be organized in Marion was the Woman's club of which she is a member. The club was organized in 1895. Ohio was in the vanguard of club work, history shows, and Marion women were among those who early recognized the value of such organizations. Early records show that there were many social affairs, guests were frequent and entertainment was lavish. The year 1920 was regarded as a banner year when 12 clubs were enrolled in the federation and there was talk of a federation home.

Mrs. Depew Head recalled her year as head of the organization as one of precious memory and a broadening experience, and Mrs. H. K. Henderson reminded her listeners of a series of book reviews by Mrs. Robert Morris, while Mrs. Lewis Uhl's term of office saw the free clinic established at the City hospital. Fine Arts day had its beginning during the presidency of Mrs. H. K. Mouser and Mrs. Grover C. Snyder's term brought the sale of articles made by the blind of the state as a federation project and the clubwomen turned their activities to helping in a civic way in the depression years. Ten years ago Mrs. Everett Grigsby led the federation in carrying on the civic programs and Mrs. J. A. Lott recalled that past presidents were made members of the executive board during her term. A sale to raise funds to bring Gregor Zemer, noted commentator to Marion was a project crowned with success during the presidency of Mrs. Carl W. Sawyer. Other officers who have served the federation since its organization in 1898 are: Mrs. Laura Winters, Mrs. Arthur Powell, Mrs. W. C. Denman, Mrs. C. T. Wiant, Mrs. A. J. Whiting, Mrs. D. H. Harvey, Mrs. W. L. Stump, Mrs. Frank King, Mrs. W. H. Holverstott, Mrs. Mame Herr Frank, Mrs. John Guthery, Mrs. John T. McNamara, and Mrs. Paul Knauss, and Mrs. A. W. Bacon.

Receives Gift of Home

In more recent years the club was presented the gift of the Federation Home by the late Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Barlow and Mrs. Sutherland, in her sketch of her term as president, reminded the members that there is now a proposal to build an assembly hall on the home grounds.

At the Federation Home yesterday afternoon some 200 guests were received by Mrs. Ralston and the social committee costumed in dresses of a half a century ago, and the rooms were filled with interesting exhibits which graced parlors and hostesses of that period. To say what particular article was the most fascinating would have been a difficult task. A wedding dress of cream cashmere and moire satin was a work of art as was a blue silk costume with an enviable waistline and yards and yards of pleated train; there were silver tea sets, and china which would be the envy of antique dealers everywhere, a jewelry box of chelsea china, a teakwood thimble case from Palestine, hand-woven linen 175 years old, a shell with the Lord's Prayer engraved upon it, lamps of early vintages and many other interesting items. Table settings arranged by the clubs were cleverly done and here were found casters, china of other years and arrangements that bespoke time and ingenuity.

The guests were received by Mrs. Ralston, and members of the social committee, Mrs. Buettin, Mrs. John P. Courtright, Mrs. James Arnold, Mrs. J. C. Ackerman, Mrs. C. V. Hudson and Miss Mabel Wheatley. Favors were nosegays of roses with white trills.

Dining Room Decorations

In the dining room the table was centered with a large bouquet of spring flowers and four triple candelabra holding tall lighted candles. Presiding at the table throughout the afternoon were Mrs. Sutherland, Mrs. O. D. Anderson, second vice president, Mrs. Smith, district president, Mrs. Harden, Mrs. Hane, Mrs. Ackerman, Miss Wheatley and Mrs. Hudson.

Mrs. Sutherland presided for the dedication of the piano. Mrs. Harder paid tribute to Miss Grace Durfee, recalling that she was a graduate of an eastern college as a student of piano and violin and later was head of the department of music in a college in the West. In closing she told of her contribution to the field of music here. For the musical part of the program Miss Maye Evangeline Lawrence played "Oenonach," (The Scottish Lament) by Bartlett and "In a Persian Market," Ketelbey; Mrs. Clarence L. Rutherford, vocalist, accompanied by Miss Wanda McMahan, sang "My Heart Ever Faithful," Bach and "I Love Thee," Grieg, and Mrs. H. K. Mouser played "Aufschwung," (Soaring) by Schumann and "A La Bien Aimee," Schutt.

Miss Durfee expressed her appreciation of the tributes paid her sister and the sentiment shown in holding the dedication on fine arts day. "It is pleasant to know the instrument will have a place in the home and hearts of her friends whose friendship she valued so highly," Miss Durfee added.

Completing the afternoon musical program were a group of piano numbers by Mrs. Gerald Jennings and two vocal numbers by Mrs. E. N. Hale, accompanied at the piano by Mrs. H. K. Mouser. Mrs. Jennings played "Impromptu," and "Fantasia Impromptu," Chopin, "Concert Etude," MacDowell, and "Romance" and "Intermezzo," Brahms. Mrs. Hale's selections were "Joy," Rihm and "Dawn," Clokey.

Ticket Sale Opens For Harmonaires Concert

Ticket headquarters for the Harmonaires program of music Wednesday night, May 12, at the Palace theater, has been set up at Carroll's Jewelry Store at 124 West Center street, it was announced today by the Business and Professional Women's club, sponsors.

Sale of tickets will be limited to the seating capacity of the theater. Tickets may be purchased at the headquarters or from members of the club.

The Marion program will be the only one given by the Harmonaires this season in this vicinity, according to the group's manager. Last year a capacity audience heard the singers at Thomas A. Edison Junior High school.

Originally a trio at the Curtiss-Wright plant in Columbus, the Harmonaires now are 10 vocalists, a pianist, and director, Raglan Reid, a graduate of Ohio State university law school and Willamette university. Their first radio program was broadcast late in 1945 over WLW. Two years ago they were featured artists on a half-hour Sunday morning show originating at WLW and carried by 54 NBC stations. Last year they went east and have subsequently been guest stars on many "name" radio programs, have made hundreds of transcriptions and many recordings.

The Harmonaires have committed to memory some 700 numbers, including spirituals, popular ballads, novelties, classical numbers, hymns and southern folk songs.

Portsmouth A's Knock Pavkov Out with 5-Run 2nd Inning, Win 9 to 5

Cubs Skid To Fourth in Standings; Play Springfield Today, Tomorrow

Special to The Star

PORTSMOUTH, May 4—Frank DeLuca of the Marion Cubs pitched winning ball against the Portsmouth A's here last night but was not able to undo the damage that Si Pavkov had wrought in one and one-third innings on the mound, the host club slamming out a 9 to 4 victory.

Pavkov walked the first two men up in the initial inning and allowed two more bases on balls in the second after striking out one man.

Then along came the A's lanky righthanded pitcher, Tennessee Morris, to lift a Pavkov delivery over the right field wall, 385 feet away, and account for three runs.

Frank Major and Dick Brown also scored off Pavkov in that inning before DeLuca came to the rescue.

In the top of the third, DeLuca tallied first for the Cubs on a force play after having walked. The A's added three more markers in the fourth when Manager George Staller scored from third on DeLuca's wild pitch and catcher Tom Hockenbury doubled, sending home two teammates.

Tony Mislovich, a newcomer to the Cubs, got the first of two runs in the fifth, coming in from third on a center field fly after bagging a single. His second followed another single in the seventh when both he and Vito Tutera scored on third baseman Al Lewetag's error.

Portsmouth's last marker came in the eighth when Major singled, stole second, advanced to third on DeLuca's balk and came home on the cub hurler's wild pitch.

The Cubs will open a two-game series at Springfield today before heading for Marion for a return series with Portsmouth Thursday and Friday nights.

Mislovich, signed by the Cubs over the weekend, made a good showing in his first appearance, getting three for four, including a double. Tony, a 19-year-old from Middletown, O., was signed to a Chicago White Sox contract and was with Lima this spring, but they released him and he came to Marion for a tryout on his own. He attended Tony Lucadello's baseball school last summer. Outfielder Gerald Peters was released to make room for him.

* * *

Another pitcher reported to the Marion fold today. He is lefty Mitchell Gegax, of Elkhart, Ind., who graduated from Concord High school near Elkhart last Friday. He played four years on his high school team, pitched in three independent teams in Elkhart for two seasons, and worked for the American Legion Junior team in Elkhart two years. His high school team was unbeaten in his junior and senior year. Gegax is 18 years old, stands five-ten, weighs 170. He bats right.

The phillies gave him an offer, a scout attending the graduation ceremonies Friday, but Tony Lucadello of the Chicago Cubs scouting staff, who also attended the school graduation, got his signature on the dotted line.

Louisville Mauled By Milwaukee, 11-2

By The Associated Press

Louisville, perennial powerhouse in the American Association, is finding it difficult to get going this season.

The Colonels, with the youngest pitching staff in the league, suffered their sixth defeat in seven road starts yesterday by being mauled 11-2 by Milwaukee.

Louisville is under the direction of little Harry (Nemo) Leibold for the fifth campaign. He led the Colonels to a pennant, a junior world series, and three A.A. playoff crowns in four years. This season, the club's fortunes seem to rest with the pitching corps, which so far has not been too impressive.

The Brewers collected nine hits off two Louisville hurlers yesterday.

Yesterday's only other scheduled game, Columbus at Kansas City, was postponed by cold weather.

IT PROBABLY would have been better, all things considered, if Marion Cub pitcher Nick Alivojvodick has retained the two-syllable handle he played under with Hutchinson, Konsas in 1946. Then the erratic, right-handed fastballer was known simply as Nick Sully, a name it would take a genius to mispronounce, a name that would fit handily into a newspaper box score without benefit of apostrophies.

Nick's playing name was dropped when he went to Clinton, Iowa, last season and he used his real name when he came here late in the season, but the Chicago Cubs still know him as Sully.

But once you get over stumbling on the "J" in Alivojvodick, which is pronounced like a "Y," the name becomes as simple to sound as Sully and is a lot more musical, as one old-time Cub fan discovered. When he first heard the name, he was so entranced by it that he sang it over and over to a little tune, "Nick Ali--VOY-vodick, Nick Al-i-VOY-vo-dick . . ."

PROBABLY because of his name, Nick causes quite a stir among the crowd when his name is announced in the lineup. One little boy sitting in front of the press box became quite excited when Nick went in to pinch hit in the ninth inning of the second Muncie-Marion game last week, shouting, "Oh boy, Nick Alivojvodick's going in."

Nick does everything the hard way. When pinch hitting then, he swung so hard at a low outside ball that he spun all the way around. He connected on the next pitch for a single to right field that drove in two runs, however, and became the tying runner on base, but was thrown out trying to reach second when Manager Zeke Bekeza flied out to left field, Muncie making the play at home first and then catching Nick going into second.

HE DOES THINGS the hard way on the mound, too. Upon several occasions Friday night when he pitched against the Richmond Braves, he'd have the batter take his first pitch and maybe swing at a second for two straight strikes and then send in four straight balls in an attempt to find the corner for a strike out. He walked nine Braves then, three of whom scored. He struck out seven.

Nick was the most nervous player on the field as the Cubs beat the Braves 13-7 Friday, and understandably so. It was his third chance in baseball and if he didn't connect he was out. He started with Hutchinson, Kansas two years ago, and played with Clinton, Iowa, and here last year. He didn't finish an inning with the Cubs last year because of his wildness, and that didn't help his confidence any. Though still wild, he has improved a lot and if he can maintain the support of the club and fans until he gets over the rough spots and can build up his confidence, the Cubs can look to a good pitcher in Nick Alivojvodick, the guy with a screaming fast ball and a musical name.

1948 May Be Stan Musial's Greatest Year in Baseball

By The Associated Press

This may be Stan Musial's greatest year since he came up to the major leagues with the St. Louis Cardinals near the end of the 1941 season.

In his first 11 games, the 27-year-old native of Donora, Pa., has built up a robust .383 batting average. But that is not the entire story.

Stan's 18 hits include four doubles, three triples and two home runs. All figures are high up among the leaders. He has driven in 14 runs, almost one-third of the Cardinals' total. Only Walker Cooper of the New York Giants and Hank Sauer of the Cincinnati Reds, with 15 each, have batted in more.

Quite a difference from his showing last year at a corresponding date, when he was hitting a puny .167 and had driven in only four runs.

The pride of Donora singled in his first two times at bat yesterday, the second blow sending in Red Schoendienst with St. Louis' first run. The Cards added two more to defeat the Chicago Cubs, 3-1, in the only day game in the National league.

The triumph shoved the Cards into third place, past Brooklyn, and only a game and a half behind the pace-setting Pittsburgh Pirates.

Dave Koslo hurled a masterful four-hit 5-0 shutout for the Giants over the Reds before 28,424 fans in a night game at Cincinnati. It was his second win in two starts. The Giants collected 13 hits off Johnny Vander Meer, Howard Fox and Ken Raffensberger.

The victory put the Giants in a virtual tie with the Pittsburgh Pirates for first place in the National league. The Pirates, however, hold a percentage point lead with eight victories and four defeats to a record of 9-5 for the Giants.

No other National league games were scheduled. Rain washed out the only scheduled American league game with Washington and Philadelphia.

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., May 4—Ohio State university offers its 17th annual football clinic for high school coaches this weekend, with Notre Dame's Frank Leahy as the outstanding member of the "faculty."

The Ohio High School Football Coaches Association will name officers for 1948-49 at the Friday-Saturday session.

Coach Leahy, explaining the "T" formation offense, will open the clinic Friday morning.

Head Coach Wesley Fesler and his Ohio State staff will take over Friday afternoon and Saturday morning. Fesler will outline Buckeye offensive plans, and head line coach Lyal Clark will talk on defensive line play.

E. R. Godfrey, assistant line coach, will discuss linebacking, and backfield coach C. C. Widdoes the fine points of pass defense.

The visiting coaches will be guests at a Friday night banquet, at which George M. Trautman, president of the National Association of Professional Baseball Leagues, will speak.

The clinic will wind up Saturday with the annual spring game at 3 p. m., following a track meet between Ohio State and Wisconsin at 1:30.

Coach Paul E. Brown of the All-America conference champion Cleveland Browns, said at least one member of his staff would attend the Ohio State clinic, and that he and his entire corps would sit in on the spring game.

NED DAY'S "HOOK" BALL WORKS IN ABC

By The Associated Press

DETROIT, May 4 — Ned Day, five-time bowling match champion who has been on a nation-wide exhibition and instruction tour for four years, often tells his students to learn to throw a "hook" ball

"You may muff the No 10 pin occasionally," he says, "but it's the most effective ball to get strikes."

Competing in the American Bowling Congress championship yesterday, Day threw plenty of hooks, missed the No 10 pin and landed on top of the all-events division with a remarkable 1979

His score was 24 pins ahead of the 1955 that has kept Anthony Pompeii of Lorain, O., in the lead for some time It also topped by 14 pins the 1965 that won the coveted all-events crown for Chicago's Junie McMahon last year.

Day's No 10 pin muff came in the last frame of his last game.

Bowling with a Chicago entry, the Milwaukee kegler had hit 667 in team competition In doubles he shot 637 and needed only 652 in singles to go ahead in the nine game race

Despite the hook that went wrong, Ned fired a 672 in the clutch to move into a position where he may well hold on to the lead.

HOME TEAMS WIN 2ND 0-1 OPENERS

Muncie Takes Doubleheader from Zanesville.

By The Associated Press

Home teams came out on top last night in all the 'second' openers in the Ohio-Indiana baseball league

Muncie took a doubleheader from Zanesville 8-2 and 7-6, to take over first place Portsmouth beat Marion, 9-4, Springfield topped Lima, 7-3, as Bill Syman struck out 12 batters and Richmond kept Newark in the win-less column, 5-2

Bob Nieman hit home runs in each game as Muncie clipped Zanesville's defending champions twice, one with the bases loaded in the sixth inning of the seven-inning opener Muncie had a 4-2 lead at the time The Hoosiers had more trouble in the second game however

They won it in the ninth when Wayne Carlson opened the inning with a double was sacrificed to third by John Moore and scored on Carl Bush's long fly after Nieman was walked intentionally

Muncie now leads with a 3-1 record followed by Portsmouth and Springfield each with 3-1, and Marion with 3-2

Byhan turned in a four-hit job in stopping Lima at Springfield, but never had a comfortable lead until his mates pushed over three runs in the last of the eighth The score once was tied, 3-all Bob Huddleston hit a sixth-inning homer for Lima

Portsmouth pitcher Ed Morris started himself on the way to victory over Marion by hitting a home run with two aboard in the second Portsmouth wound up with five runs in the inning and added three more in the sixth after Marion pushed its first run across in the fifth

Newark had a 2-0 lead when Richmond exploded for five runs in the last of the eighth on three hits on three hits two walks, an error and a hit batsman It was Richmond's second straight win after three defeats and Newark's fourth straight loss

Fading Redlegs Reach New Low

By The Associated Press

CINCINNATI, May 4 — The last-fading Redlegs of Cincinnati have reached a new low for the season

Only 15 percentage points separated the Reds from last place today after their 5-0 loss last night to the hard-hitting New York Giants in the first under-the-lights contest of the year at Crosley Field.

A crowd of 28,424 turned out for the game and saw lefty Dave Koslo set the Rhinelanders down with just four hits, two of them by second sacker Benny Zientara

The Reds were decked out in new satin uniforms but the Giants weren't impressed as they pounded three Cincinnati hurlers for 13 hits Koslo was the only New Yorker who failed to hit safely.

The Giants went to work on starter Johnny Vander Meer in the fifth and when the inning was over New York had a 3-0 lead

Third baseman Jack Lohrke, who finished with three hits in four trips to the plate, got things under way with a single after one was away Koslo popped out before second sacker Bill Rigney walked. Left fielder Carroll Lockman singled Lohrke home, sending Rigney to third Lockman took second on the throw to the plate and then came home with Rigney on Bobby Thomson's single

The Giants chased Vandy in the sixth when they scored another run on three singles.

Howard Fox, Vandy's successor, held the New Yorkers through the seventh and eighth but they pushed over the fifth marker on Ken Raffensberger in the ninth

The Reds and Giants rested today for tomorrow's single game at the Redleg plant.

The charge was made, U. S. Attorney J Vincent Keogh said, after one of Sande's horses, Big Stage, was found to have been drugged when it won a race at Jamaica April 21, paying $12.40 for $2.

Sande, 49 years old, was arraigned yesterday before U. S. Commissioner Edward E Fay He waived examination and was released without bail.

Indians Open Crucial Series

By The Associated Press

PHILADELPHIA, May 4 — The league-leading Cleveland Indians today open their first 'crucial' series of the season against the Philadelphia Athletics, surprising occupants of second place in the American league

If Manager Lou Boudreau were a betting man, he probably would admit that he would wager "a couple of Bobs" on the Indians' pitching boys—Feller, Lemon and Muncrief — to give the Tribe a margin in the three-game series

Muncrief, a relief winner in his only appearance this year, opposes the ace of the A's staff, Phil Marchildon, in the opener of the Indians first 1948 eastern swing. Feller will hurl tomorrow and Lemon will take the mound Thursday The trio has been credited with five of the Tribe's six victories to date.

Tribe Hires Scout For Negro Talent

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, May 4 — The Cleveland Indians announced today arrangements had been completed with Abe Saperstein whereby his organization would provide scouting facilities for promising Negro ball players

Saperstein promoter of the Harlem Globe Trotters professional basketball team, has a far-flung organization that scouts for Negro athletes in the Philippines, Cuba and Mexico

"We know there are many promising Negro ball players of the caliber of Jackie Robinson of the Brooklyn Dodgers and our own Larry Doby," Tribe President Bill Veeck said "and we feel sure that by working through Mr. Saperstein's organization we can obtain our share of such talent"

NELSON TO ROCHESTER

By The Associated Press

ST LOUIS, May 4 — First baseman Glenn Nelson was sent to Rochester yesterday by the St Louis Cards The 23-year-old West Portsmouth, O, resident will be on 24-hour recall He hit .371 for Lynchburg of the Piedmont league last season

JONES-OWENS TEAM WINS PIN TOURNEY

A total of 77 doubles teams, bowling at Palace Recreation last week in the first annual Eddie Steele mixed doubles tournament, would up the tourney with 19 teams ranking in the money

A Jones and P Owens proved to be the best team-woman combination entered as they finished first in the final standings with a score of 1196 and $70 in prize money, less the cost of two women's trophies

The tournament, a creation of the Eddie Steele Inc considered a success this year will probably be run annually in the future to mark the end of the bowling season

A list of the winners follows A Jones-P Owens 1166 $70, Margie Kraus-Don Owens 1155, $50 M Crispin-Ray Crispin, 1148 $35, G Samples-C Samples, 1141 $20 C Gibson-M Gibson, 1141 $13 R Osborne-B Campbell 1129 $10 P Snyder-R Snyder, 1127 $10, D Hedges-B Lenavitt, 1125, $10 F Potter-J Parshall, 1119 $10, K Cafagno-N Cafagno, 1119, $10, Mabel G Linsbeiger, 1117, $10, Florine-L Morris 1116 $5, F Potter B Potter, 1108 $5 M Pentamenis-S Harovich, 1106 $5 S Wilcox-R Roux, 1104 $5, D Hodges-J Kaylin, 1096 $5 E Hintz-P Hintz, 1095, $5, D Rheinfrank-B Barber, 1093 $5, R Pritchard-H Pritchard, 1087, $5

HARDING TO MEET GALION ON TRACK

The track and field squad of Harding, with a week's rest since their last venture on the speedways at Columbus West, will be out to gain a place in the winner's circle again tomorrow when they journey to Galion

Pushed aside in the running events against the Columbus Cowboys Coach Somerlot's endurance boys fared quite a bit better in the field trials, outscoring the Westerners 78-17, but losing the meet 78-10

Number one sprinter, Dick Umbaugh, pulled a leg muscle in the meet but will probably be ready to go against Galion tomorrow. In addition to the assistance he will give the team, Clarence Smith is almost certain to capture the shot put event having already got the shot 48 feet 4½ inches in competition.

DOG CLIMBS TREE

By The United Press

PARSONS, Kan.—It is a shock to most passers-by to see Nickie sitting in the crotch of a tree, some six feet above the ground. Nickie is a fox terrier.

The dog has learned to claw his way up the trunk of a tree in his master's front yard. He isn't as graceful as a cat, but his owner, Charles Laisure, says he is smarter.

Nickie's altitude record is seven feet.

Appear in Concert Tonight

SASCHA GORODNITZKI
Pianist with the Sinfonietta

PAUL SCHREIBER
St. Louis Sinfonietta Conductor

* * *

A program by the St. Louis Sinfonietta, with Sascha Gorodnitzki, pianist, will be presented as the closing number of the 1947-48 season of the Marion Community Concert association tonight at the Palace theater. Doors of the theater will be opened at 7:30 o'clock and the program will begin at 8:15 o'clock.

The program will open with "Adagio," by Corelli, to be followed by the overture ot "The Marriage of Figaro," by Mozart. The first part of the program will conclude with the adagio, allegro, andante, minuetto allegro and allegro spiritoso from Joseph Haydn's "London Symphony No. 2."

Mr. Gorodnitzki will be heard as the soloist in the Concerto No. 1, in E flat major. Liszt which is presented in four clearly discernible sections which merge into each other without interruption and form a unified whole. The principal theme of the concerto begins Allegro maestoso with the strings in unison, answered by strong wood-wind chords. The piano enters with an elaborate cadenza, guilt, in part, on the principal subject, and the main theme is answered by brilliant octaves in the piano and appears again more quietly in the orchestra against a shimmering harp-like passage in the solo instrument.

"Guaracha" and "Pavane," by Morton Gould and the always pleasing "Emperor Waltz," by Johann Strauss, complete the program.

New York Stock Quotations

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, May 4 — Rails and industrials attracted further sound bids in today's stock market despite the persistence of profit cashing on the lengthy upswing.

Belief that inflationary psychology will keep business going at a high level for some time to come again inspired much of the demand.

Ahead most of the time were Southern Railway, Union Pacific, U. S. Steel, Bethlehem Steel, Youngstown Sheet, Goodyear, Montgomery Ward, International Harvester, Anaconda, American Telephone, Du Pont, American Woolen and Pacific Western Oil.

Occasional losers were Glenn Martin, Air Reduction, Dow Chemical, U. S. Gypsum, Paramount Pictures, Warner Bros., American Airlines, Texas Co and Standard Oil (NJ).

One Man's Opinion

By WALTER KIERNAN

Democratic headquarters quote astrologers as saying that Taft was born too late in the afternoon to be president . . . Apparently just missed the noon planet for the White House.

* * *

Republicans feel that any of their candidates was born under a lucky star to be running this year but according to the charts, Truman can't miss if we play our horoscopes right.

* * *

Eisenhower was born under five stars but is not inclined to run . . . He doesn't believe in giving up a good steady job for four terms in the White House.

* * *

There was a time a man could hope to escape in eight years but due to popular eagerness that was changed.

* * *

Anyway not everything depends on our election . . . Danish scientists are going right ahead with plans to develop a potato with a tomato skin.

* * *

This sounds like a mad idea until you think what people have been trying to do with their faces.
